IV. IAIA Foundation

Judith Pepper reported that the foundation is changing its focus in communicating with donors, focusing more on e-blasts and online giving and scholarships.

Eileen Berry, Associate Director, Institutional Advancement, shared that Advancement is working to be more transparent in communicating information regarding scholarships awarded to students. They will publish a list of all scholarships, including language for donors encouraging them to make additional contributions toward existing scholarships or establishing their own scholarships. Personal stories of the scholarship recipients and lead donors will be posted on the website. The goal is to cultivate relationships and share videos featuring students and alumni encouraging to pay it forward by donating for scholarships.

V. Modification to Gift Acceptance Policy Resolution

Judith Pepper shared the following modifications to the Gift Acceptance policy:

- The first is signage considerations. If a donor pledges a large amount, at least 50% of that pledge for a named gift must be paid before visual recognition can be installed.
- The second is the pledge payout period. The normal pledge period for gifts for endowed scholarships and major gifts are usually one to three years. The Board can make exceptions for an additional period, not to exceed five years.
VI. Revised Memorandum of Understanding Resolution

The Board reviewed the edits for the MOU with Foundation; Judith Pepper will submit it to the Foundation Board for their final review and approval.

The committee adjourned 12:00 PM
Call to Order: Beverley Morris, Chair, at 1:15 pm MST.

- Andrea Handley is working with thirteen volunteers who are going through the orientation for the Docent program. Upon completion of the program they will conduct tours and volunteer their services to the museum.

- Manuela Well-Off-Man has completed and submitted the five core documents required for the museum’s accreditation, which will go to the American Alliance of Museums (AAM) staff for evaluation. The final review will be published in February 2020. The goal of accreditation is to increase the museum’s credibility and value to funders, policy makers, insurers, community and peers.

Mission Objective 1: Improve Student Success

1.1 Increase involvement of all IAIA stakeholders in student success

- The “Pathways: Completing the Circle” student success initiative has accomplished the following relative to campus engagement plan:
  - Through the leadership of Dr. Jessie Ryker-Crawford and Jennifer Love, Pathways Council co-chairs, campus engagement in supporting student success has increased dramatically. This has been accomplished through well-attended monthly Pathways Summit meetings of departmental representatives and students in which potential student success projects are discussed, accepted and assigned to individuals or departments.
  - The Achieving the Dream coaches visited campus January 28-29 to meet with the President’s Cabinet, the Pathways Council and students. Both were impressed with the progress made with our student success initiatives, especially regarding campus engagement.

- The next iteration of IAIA’s strategic plan will increase emphasis on institutional priorities promoting and measuring progress toward student success goals.

- The mentoring program is in its second semester of implementation and we are experiencing increases in both mentors and mentees.

- The relocation of the IAIA Community Pantry to a larger area in the Student Union Building occurred last semester. A refrigerator, cabinets, shelving and clothes racks have been added.

- Thanks to the leadership and diligent efforts of Larry Mirabal, CFO, beginning in February, early childhood daycare services will again be available for infants and children living in family housing.

1.2 Increase enrollment; improve retention and completion

- The 2019 Spring Semester tentative student enrollment is 455 FTE as compared to the 474 FTE for the 2018 Spring Semester, representing a slight decrease.

- The 2018 Spring Semester Scholarships will be awarded in conjunction with the Student Success Summit on Thursday, February 14. Scholarship recipients will receive their scholarships during a noon luncheon in the Performing Arts and Fitness Center.

- I traveled to Juneau, January 8-11, for follow-up meetings with Dr. Rosita Worl, Sealaska Heritage Institute (SHI) Director, Chancellor Richard Caufield, University of Alaska Southeast, and SHI’s Native Artist Committee to discuss strategies for strengthening Northwest Coast Arts programs at our respective institutions.

SHI is providing scholarships for several Alaska Native students attending IAIA and is planning to send NWC artists to IAIA for short-term residencies. SHI also will fund three interns this summer – two in studio arts and one museum studies – to work in their programs and with the Alaska State Museum.

- Dr. Robert Cummings, Chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Pembroke, Mrs. Cummings, and three of his faculty and staff visited IAIA in January to learn more about our mission, programs and students. Chancellor Cummings and I are both interested in developing a memorandum of understanding to facilitate collaborative relationships for mutual benefit between our two respective institutions, i.e. student and faculty exchanges.

1.2 Develop student leadership skills

- Caleigh Benally, American Indian Higher Education Consortium (AIHEC) Student Congress Southwest Regional Representative; and Nakesha Edwards, IAIA Associated Student Government (ASG) Treasurer; will represent the IAIA student body during the AIHEC Legislative Summit, February 3-7, Washington D.C. They will participate in meetings with the New Mexico congressional delegation, congressional appropriations staff and federal agencies.

- Thirteen students have been placed in internships (nine paid and 4 unpaid) for the 2019 Spring Semester at various sites in Santa Fe and New Mexico.

Mission Objective 2: Strengthen Academic Programs

- The Higher Learning Commission approved IAIA’s substantive change application to offer AFA and BFA programs in performing arts in December, which is the only BFA performing arts program taught from an Indigenous perspective.

- We are thrilled that IAIA has been invited by Margaret A. Cargill Philanthropies (MACP) to become one of their key partners in terms of deepening our work with them and increasing our commitment to community impact. MACP is in the process of transitioning to a strategy with fewer key and regional partnerships in which they work with entities committed to building their organizational capacity to broaden community impact and leveraging additional support for this work.
The first phase of this project will begin March 1 when a consultant will be assigned to work with us to prioritize critical issues and priorities to build our capacity to have greater community impact, i.e. technology, financial management, governance, marketing and communication, and fundraising. This year will focus on data and information collection. In January 2020, the capacity building program objectives will be implemented. MACP plans to bring their key partners together for information sharing in February of 2020.

IAIA’s current Cargill programming grant, which funds the Artist-in-Residence, Internship and Foundry programs, will continue.

Mission Objective 3: Build College Community

3.1 Implement the Climate Action Plan with campus-wide involvement

- Two projects have been initiated that will reduce our campus carbon footprint. First, using U.S. Department of Education Title III funds, most parking lot lights and building external lights will be replaced with LED fixtures. Second, using USDA grant funding, solar arrays will be installed to provide electricity for the campus greenhouse. This action will take the greenhouse off the electrical grid.

3.2 Update the Campus Master Plan

- The Plan 22 draft has been reviewed by all of constituent groups and the revised document will be submitted to the Board for review and approval at the February meeting. Plan 22 will be used to inform and update the Campus Facilities Master Plan.

3.6 Implement an internal and external marketing and communications plan

- During the February Board of Trustees Meeting, a luncheon session with Faculty Council will held in the Hogan.

- In November, I attended Board of Trustees meetings for the Higher Learning Commission in Chicago and the American Indian College Fund in Okmulgee, OK.

3.7 Grow and maximize resources for college programs

- The American Indian Higher Education Consortium Legislative Summit is scheduled for February 4-8, in Washington, D.C. We will request support for both our FY 19 ($9,960,000) and FY 20 ($10,210,000) funding requests, which reflect cost-of-living increases and provide support for student success initiatives, i.e. the summer bridge program.

- IAIA’s $800,000 funding request included in the 2018 New Mexico Higher Education General Obligation Bond D was approved by the voters. The funds will pay for phase II of the renovation project to replace the Academic Building’s HVAC system and to bring our facilities into compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

The 60-day, 2019 New Mexico Legislative Session began mid-January and will end mid-March. IAIA and the other New Mexico Tribal Colleges are requesting an increase in high school dual credit reimbursement funding from $200,000 to $300,000. We also are seeking $400,000 in New Mexico Research and Public Service Project (RPSP) funding to increase the number of Native students who enroll and graduate from college. The tribal colleges are again asking for student eligibility for the New Mexico Lottery Scholarship Program.

In addition, each of the tribal colleges has requested funding to support capital outlay projects. IAIA is requesting $275,000 to replace our eighteen-year-old telephone system and IT fiber infrastructure, and re-stuccoing the 40,000 square foot Academic Building.

- The $434,200 proposal to the Mellon Foundation to establish a Research Center for study, training, and publications in contemporary Native arts and culture was funded. This grant will assist IAIA in advancing the field of Contemporary Native Arts and Cultures and building on our legacy as the birthplace of this movement.

- As we continue to build capacity for a comprehensive fundraising campaign, we will initiate a more limited initiative to raise $1,500,000 for the scholarship endowment over the next two years.

- The Neal Family Trust has notified us that an additional $112,000 bequest will be forthcoming soon. The Trust has provided $300,000 in the past year for the Endowed Scholarship Fund.

Mission Objective 4: Advance contemporary Native arts and cultures

4.2 Advance scholarship and dialogue on Indigenous arts and culture

- The Cargill Artist-in-Residence (A-i-R) program, directed by Drs. Lara Evans and Jessie Ryker-Crawford, continues to enrich and diversify the educational environment at IAIA. The A-i-R program will bring 10 artists to campus during the 2019 spring semester.

- In addition to funding received from the Andy Warhol Foundation and Native Arts and Cultures Foundation to support programming and work at the IAIA Museum, an $88,000 grant was awarded by Art Bridges Foundation to bring the traveling exhibition, Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950s to Now, to the museum. This exhibition documents the evolution of contemporary Native art and its impact on the field of contemporary arts. Eleven of the 30 artworks feature artists with a connection to IAIA.
The Tenth Annual Holiday Market was tremendously successful in terms of the number of artists (booth spaces were sold-out) and in terms of the large turnout of buyers. The Market continues to grow and thrive. We received numerous positive comments from the artists, who liked the heavy traffic; and the shoppers, who valued the diversity of art available from current students, alumni and other artists. Several IAIA alumni artists reported they chose IAIA’s Market over SWAIA’s, which were scheduled the same weekend.

Mission Objective 5: Expand capacity as a 1994 Land Grant institution

5.1 Communicate IAIA’s role as a Land Grant Institution

- Charlene Carr, Land Grant Programs Director, has been elected to serve as President of the First Americans Land Grant Consortium (FALCON). Falcon is a non-profit, professional association, sanctioned by the AIHEC Board of Directors, representing administrators, faculty and staff at 1994 Land-Grant Institutions (Tribal Colleges and Universities). The FALCON portal shares information, fosters partnerships, promotes professional development and serves as a resource center for tribal colleges’ land grant programs.

Mission Objective 1: Improve Student Success

A. Increase involvement of all IAIA Stakeholders in Student Success

Project: Whenever possible include expanded student representation in both on and off campus event execution and marketing activities. Access student internships with sponsored events.

MarCom has continued to pursue internships for students with KSFR, SFIFF, AHA Festival, Santa Fe Bandstand, Santa Fe Reporter, Hutton Broadcasting, and others in conjunction with Karen Gomez, Internship and Career Director. We also have encouraged ASG to become more involved with Marketing and Communications Department. Students continue to be involved with IAIA MusicFest in production/management capacities.

% completed - 100%

Other: Last year, MarCom produced a new Public Service Announcement for the Comcast Cable system and a short Recruitment Video for use by Admissions.

You can view them here (plus a short teaser that we used on Facebook): https://www.dropbox.com/sh/vu7lhaorx03x923/AAAxI_RIF_YNFPVSnkq9k7jGa?dl=0

Our student worker last semester, LeRoy Grafe, who shot and edited the videos (along with Jason Ordaz and me), were given expanded duties in the MarCom department, photographing events and making social media posts for the school, along with assisting in updating the website. We hope to utilize him again this semester.

From 1/1/18 through 10/31/18 the PSA generated $33,258.93 in value.

% completed - 100%
Other: The IAIA weekly radio program on KSFR continues to receive good response from the local audience. We have developed regular features with appearances by artists in the IAIA Artists-in-Residence program (both school and museum), graduating seniors, and alumni -- and will continue to expand the guest list with a more national focus, including high-profile guests such as Billy Mills, Daystar Rosalie Jones, Ty Defoe, Joely Proudfit, Anne Hillerman, Suzan Harjo, and LaDonna Harris. We have done several shows with the principals of Project Indigene – a program comprising 8 Santa Fe Native cultural institutions and 16 renowned artists, including Charlene Teters, Frank Buffalo Hyde, Nocona Burgess, and Cannupa Hanska Luger. A new project is slated for this semester which will include a student art competition.

We will continue to interface with the committee as requested, to assist them in communication with students, faculty, staff, etc., and in any way that we can.

% completed – 75%

B. Increase enrollment

Project: Utilize paid advertising and social media to drive potential students to the redesigned IAIA Web site. Redesign Recruitment/Branding ad.

MarCom continues to place advertising more closely in conjunction with Admissions and Recruitment, targeting traditional and on-line media outlets relevant to potential students. After focusing on the Santa Fe Area, we have expanded our media buys to cover Albuquerque and its suburbs, Taos, and the Gallup area -- covering the reservations that surround it, as suggested by the Recruitment Director. We are still utilizing the “Students” ad creative, but we are in the process of developing a new “Alumni/Student Success” ad for future use that will feature IAIA alumni success stories. Each ad will focus on a specific degree plan and rotate on a semi-yearly basis. We are also looking to test billboard advertising and possibly airport advertising in this fiscal year. Additionally, we have been approached by one of the malls in Santa Fe to host events, exhibit artworks, and other possible opportunities.

We also executed an on-line specific advertising campaign which resulted in an increase in on-line students.
Additionally, we have expanded the number of publications that we’ve utilized for advertising and increasing our on-line advertising.

We will also continue to increase IAIA’s event and overall exposure on-line utilizing social media (primarily Facebook) and paid advertising. We have launched the IAIA Instagram account which received immediate attention, and we have attracted almost 2,000 followers from the start. The current number of “likes” for our main Facebook page is almost 22,000. We will strive to increase engagement with our audience through both the various pages (School, Bookstore, Alumni, Museum, Performing Arts, MFA) and event pages and postings. A recent live-stream (with our new live stream camera) of the Tommy Orange reading at the Winter Readers Gathering event reached over 6,000 people, had 246 engagements, 30 shares, and 475 clicks – with almost 2,300 minutes viewed. We will expand the number of events that we stream live on the internet in the coming year.

% completed – 100%

Other: We have been recording testimonials for all of the degree programs for use on our website and social media. The MFA, Business Program, ILS, and Cinematic Arts and Technology programs are complete. Dean Teters is next. It will be mostly the department chairs in the videos, although we used student testimonials for the Business Program.

% completed - 70%

Other: Although delayed for a variety of technical and personnel issues, the E-Commerce page has launched on the IAIA Website, selling merchandise from both the Museum Store and Bookstore. We hope to not only drive additional traffic to the website, but also drive some incremental revenue. Initial response during the Holiday Season was good, and we plan to expand the merchandise offerings and marketing activities in the new year.

% completed – 100%

E. Develop Student Leadership Skills

Other: Will continue to meet faculty and staff (and students) on an ad hoc basis, to discuss their needs from MarCom. We are also planning surveys, focus groups, and other community interactions to further fine-tune our programs. Will use best efforts to expand our presence and continue to develop consistency with our Facebook communications. Continuing Education and Land Grant continue to be priorities.

% completed - 90%

Other: The MarCom department will continue to participate in student activities such as film shoots, exhibition openings, activities, club events, etc. I feel as a member of the President’s Cabinet it helps improve the students’ perception of accessibility to the administration and shows an interest in their development. Our Associate Director of Marketing and Communications will continue teaching an IAIA photography class and teach CE classes.

% completed - 100%

Mission Objective 3: Build College Community

F. Implement an internal and external marketing and communications plan

Project: Develop plan after reviewing previous plans and determining effectiveness. External plan will be in conjunction with Admissions and Museum. Internal plan will revolve around regular email communications, website announcements, and Facebook exposure.

A new Marketing Plan is in progress and proceeding through the review process. We have utilized a few new media outlets this year, (expanding into Albuquerque, Taos, and the Navajo/Hopi/Zuni reservation areas.) And as noted above, will continue to expand our online presence. Internally, we have reduced the number of emails sent to students and attempted to make the Newsletter more appealing and easier to read by shortening all articles and utilizing weblinks to stories as opposed to including them in the body of the newsletter.

We are also exploring a new internal communications channel, utilizing the video screens throughout campus. We are in the process of testing various solutions to tie them to a single source and will present to Dr. Martin and the cabinet when testing is complete.

% completed – 95%
Other: Develop Policy and Procedure Manuals.

The process to update the IAIA Style Guide is continuing. The Editorial Guide will become part of this new document. The new Style Guide will address approval procedures, logo usage, faculty/staff/student Facebook and other social media behaviors, etc. All work will be done in-house. First set of revisions made, and the next round is expected to be completed soon.

% completed – 55%

Other: Will expand relationships with key external media personnel. Will meet with key area journalists to discuss IAIA and new strategies for stories and features. Have had great meetings and/or conversations with reporters from Santa Fe New Mexican, the Reporter, and the Journal North: Including Robert Nott, Megan Bennett, Charlotte Jusinski, and Alex DeVore.

All Museum-developed communications pieces will continue to be reviewed by MarCom department to insure consistent messaging. KSFR radio shows and appropriate advertising efforts will continue to reinforce connection between school and museum. Monthly newsletter will expand coverage of museum exhibitions and events. Two versions of a joint school/museum advertisement have been developed and will continue to be utilized where appropriate.

% completed - 100%

Other: Continue to utilize Event Sponsorship to strengthen IAIA’s connection to the community. We have continued our promotional partnerships with Santa Fe Bandstand, Santa Fe Independent Film Festival, and the AHA Festival of Progressive Arts (cancelled for 2018), which have added to our local visibility. New in 2018 was sponsorship of the New Mexico Film and Media Industry Conference, The Pueblo Film Fest, and (upcoming) Indian Day at the Legislature. Will continue to expand the program as the MarCom budget will allow. Have recently begun to strengthen our ties to SWAIA, MIAC, and other Native institutions through sponsorship and joint collaborative programs. For 2019, the Indigenous Marketing Group will execute a Native Design program which will feature a juried contest for Native Students culminating in an exhibition in the upstairs conference room at the Museum.

This includes courses that promote professional development and personal enrichment that are core to the IAIA Mission and Vision. Instructors were contracted to teach courses in “North American Native Art History”, “Applying for Artist Residencies: Putting Your Best Foot Forward” and “Using a Drone to Elevate Your Photography”. Also, a course called “The Bench” was developed in partnership with Paul Moore, IAIA Registrar that will bring together members of the campus community to teach them how to build benches for IAIA and have them displayed on-campus. This coincides with efforts to make the campus an inviting, comfortable and vibrant space for students, as part of the objectives of the IAIA Pathways: Completing the Circle Initiative. In addition, will be courses offered in business, the use of social media, website development and computer science provide practical and everyday skills to participants.

This Spring, CE is fortunate to have quite a number of instructors offering their knowledge and experience to the IAIA community at no cost. We are then able to offer the classes for free to the participants. This includes IDRS INC (Lynn Wilson and Mark Thompson), Bill Sayre, Anita Gavin, Jesse Morris, Jennifer Nevarez, Ken Fischer, Miguel Reyes Contreras and Derek Trumbo. The Spring semester could not be possible without the assistance of these volunteer instructors.

Partnership Development and Outreach

Jonathan Breaker, Continuing Education Manger, has continued to promote the CE program with tribal communities and students. Jonathan also promoted the CE Course schedule through the publication of the Spring 2019 CE Brochure. CE promotion is also done through social media, on the CE webpage, IAIA Constant Contact email distribution and through advertising in Santa Fe’s Pasatiempo. The CE courses are also advertised where possible through flyers on-campus and email to the campus community.

Jonathan is working with the National Indian Education Association (NIEA) to process Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for the 2018 NIEA National Convention participants. Jonathan is also in discussions with NIEA about plans for the 2019 convention.

Empower

Since the implementation of Empower Student Information System for CE programming, CE continues to work with campus colleagues to implement the system. More recently, CE has worked with Finance and the Student Success Center to better integrate and develop policies and procedures. CE also has been working with Institutional Research to better enhance the capability of the Web Empower registration site to be more user-friendly. Jonathan will continue to work on developing CE procedures, including an instructor manual and resources.

TCU Meeting on the IACET Standard

During the second week of January 2019, the Director of Sponsored Programs, Laurie Logan Brayshaw and Continuing Education Manager, Jonathan Breaker attended the TCU (Tribal Colleges and Universities) training on how to calculate Continuing Education Units. This training was provided to tribal colleges that issue CEUs and how to manage and calculate them for purposes of Bureau of Indian Education, Title III, and USDA funding. The meeting was hosted by AIHEC and the Bureau of Indian Education and led by the International Association of Continuing Education and Training (IACET). The training provided guidance and information on how TCUs can properly comply with existing standards. IAIA Continuing Education volunteered to participate in a working group comprised of TCUs on how to develop compliance and standards set out by BIE.

Strategic Theme III: Build College Community

I. Grow and maximize resources for college programs

   Percentage complete 100%

Sponsored Programs

Project: Use the information about IAIA needs and interests to identify potential funding for these areas.

The grant from the Mellon Foundation was received. IAIA was awarded $434,000 to develop and begin implementation of a strategic plan to create a Native Arts Research Center. IAIA has signed a contract with KAI to begin the feasibility study and market research regarding research centers.

The USDA Tribal Endowment Distribution was received for FY18. The amount was $123,739.

Five members of the Abq USDA Rural Development office visited the campus to introduce the new state director, Art Garcia, to the projects that their office has previously funded. The attendees were very pleased to see the building construction and the fitness equipment that was purchased with their funds.

I attended the NAFSA conference in Memphis with Nena Martinez-Anaya. We were taught the rules and regulations regarding bringing in foreign students to study at our institution on a J-1 visa. IAIA was on track to host students from UIEM for the Spring 19 semester, but they were unable to attend due to lack of funds.
Jonathan Breaker and I attended the two-day AIHEC/International Association for Continuing Education and Training (IACET) training in Albuquerque regarding certification for Continuing Education programs. The IACET standards were reviewed and explained in relation to the TCU Act ISC Formula. While we are not going to seek accreditation for our program, we will follow their standards to help build the reputation of the program.

I attended the Title IX/VAWA webinar for recertification training for Adjudicators. The training will allow me to continue to hear student appeals for the Student Life department.

An additional six-month no-cost extension was requested and received from the Department of Defense for Mats Reiniusson. The grant will allow for the completion of the building of the interface with the content management system for the Dome.

With Aimee Balthazar and Larry Mirabal, we worked together to clean up several grant fund accounts in the Financial Edge system. I also worked with Jennifer Foerster to transition the Lannan Foundation grants from Jon Davis as the Project Director to Ms. Foerster.

I spoke to the IAIA Pathways Summit Camp group about Bond D. The bond would fund the completion of the renovation of the HVAC system in the Academic building, and ADA upgrades across the campus.

The Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence program asked Steve Wall and I to answer several questions for their blog regarding the process of applying for a Scholar-in-Residence and the impact of hosting a scholar (Miguel Reyes). The interview is posted on the Fulbright Scholar Program blog https://www.cies.org/article/institute-american-indian-arts-reflects-hosting-fulbright-scholar-residence.

Felipe Colon requested that I speak to his Museum Studies Practicum class about the grant writing process. I explained the research, planning and writing that are required to create a proposal.

I participated in four Student Appeals Hearing for the Student Life department.
Mission Objective 1: Improve Student Success

A. Increase involvement of all IAIA stakeholders in student success

Project I – Library Personal Relationship Project
This project is designed to create personal relationships with students to better anticipate their needs and decrease library anxiety. The Library staff hosted a series of events in the Fall 2018, in coordination with other IAIA stakeholders, email resources, and handed out a research notebook. The pilot was geared towards transfer students only. The transfer student pilot is 100% complete. All 41 transfer students participated in the project. All received emails, with a select group taking advantage of the extended reference hours. Students asked to visit with their personal librarian 15 times, while other interactions were generally garnered. The feedback from the pilot was positive. Students remarked that the most helpful aspects of the program included: emails and online information, one on one help, and having a point person for questions.

- In Spring 2019, the personal librarian program will be fully implemented with all incoming students. For each new student, the program will last only the first semester. Statistics about the number and kind of transactions will be logged. 100% Complete

B. Increase enrollment; improve retention and completion

Project I – Carnegie Math Pilot course
IAIA delivered the Carnegie Quantway Math Instructional system (part of the Achieving the Dream support projects) this-past Fall 2018. We are offering the course again for Spring 2019. The rigor of critical, quantitative thinking and writing in mathematics from the Carnegie curriculum was noted by students. In order to provide students more effective support for the complexities presented by the Carnegie system, two students who completed the course in the fall with A’s will serve as Math tutors for the spring cohort. 70% Complete. May 2019

B. Increase scholarship funds
Project I – Cinematic Arts Scholarships.

George R.R. Martin, renowned fantasy author behind the “Song of Ice and Fire” series of books, the source material upon which HBO’s Emmy-winning, blockbuster hit series “Game of Thrones” visited campus in September to announce the GRRM scholarship.

The initial round of scholarships, one $15,000 and two $5,000, were funded by the Fevre River Packet Co. Because the scholarship was founded by an acclaimed storyteller and because one of the foundations of the Cinematic Arts Department is the importance of meaningful storytelling, it was decided that the scholarships would be merit-based with priority going to Cinematic Arts students who demonstrate a passion and skill for storytelling. In addition, though the scholarships would have a strong Native preference, it was decided not to exclude non-Native Cinematic Arts students who are gifted storytellers.

These scholarships would be designated for full-time, BFA degree seeking Cinematic Arts majors who are Sophomores or above, and who possess a minimum 3.0 GPA. The other $5,000 scholarship would be utilized as a marketing and recruitment tool for an incoming freshman or transfer student.

It is hoped that GRRM will be available to present the scholarship awards at the Jean Cocteau Cinema in Santa Fe during the end of year annual Cinematic Arts Showcase Screening and Awards. Because of the small size of the venue, the event will most likely be limited to IAIA students, filmmakers, invited guests and members of the press.

Ultimately, it is hoped that the George R.R. Martin scholarships will not only provide financial aid for deserving students but also that the high profile GRRM name will create an awareness of IAIA on a national, and even international level, as well as enhance the visibility, credibility and sustainability of IAIA’s Cinematic Arts program. 80% complete.

E. Develop student leadership skills

Project I – Pathway Council, Student Leadership Initiative.

Two student leaders, Charmaine Kinale and Jacob Frye, served as members of the core Pathways (Achieving the Dream) team to discuss specific goals, accomplishments, and future action items for this institutional initiative. These student voices have offered insight imperative to addressing student success and the student experience at IAIA for Pathways Basecamp and Summit meetings, with 15 and 40 members respectively. Charmaine (a second-semester freshman) will continue to serve as a student leader in the Spring semester, noting that being a part of this committee has made her feel valued as an IAIA community member. Due to scheduling conflicts, Jacob Frye will be unable to serve in the spring, but Golga Oscar, a sophomore, has been asked to serve as the second member. 70% Complete. May 2019.

Mission Objective 2: Strengthen Academic Programs

A. Develop and promote an indigenous assessment model

Project I – MFA Program Assessment:
The Interim Director invited Associate Dean Lara Evans to present the Indigenous assessment model to the MFA mentors at the January MFA residency. This is the first step in creating a sustainable process to measure and track the effectiveness of the Creative Writing MFA Program using the Indigenous assessment model. 30 % Completion date: May 2019

Project II – Department Learning outcomes assessment
During the Spring 2019 in-service all faculty participated in an Indigenous assessment session of the Studio Arts senior project critics. It was determined that going forward that every in-service should include time for an assessment session of a department learning outcome. All departments will conduct their own an indigenous assessment of one student learning, department & course outcomes culminating in end of year reports to the Dean. 50% May 2019.

B. Implement an academic strategic plan that will address Plan 2020 institutional priorities and future growth

Project I - Dual Credit Course Evaluations.
We have completed the Fall 18 Dual Credit evaluations with 118 submissions. Survey Monkey evaluations were all done on-line with an increase of 20% from previous semesters. We will continue to review courses not submitted and find out why those evaluations were not completed. 50% completed. Completion date: May 2019.

D. Assess the feasibility of adding undergraduate and graduate programs in several fields of study

Project I – Museum Studies Plan to adapt Business Program
This project is to re-center the Business program under the operations of the Balzer Contemporary Edge Gallery (BCEG) and rebrand as a Faculty in Arts Management. The new faculty position will incorporate the program oversite into the job duties of the BCEG Director. After several discussions in Fall 2018 we determined that this arrangement was more suitable given the direct relationship between the BCEG and the practices inherent to Arts Management. We have updated our project timeline to begin the hiring of the new Arts Management Faculty/BCEG Director this Spring Semester 2019. 40% Complete.

Project III - Assess the feasibility of adding a Low-Residency MFA in Studio Arts
Second stage development a for an MFA designed for serious artists. The Vermont College of Art Low-Residency is our model. We will also meet with Evergreen College to explore collaborations on the MFA Studio Arts residency. Studio Arts faculty along with the Academic Dean are taking the lead in next steps, including identifying necessary resources: Low-Res faculty and infrastructure. Continued from last year’s project. 40% complete. May 2019

Mission Objective 3: Build College Community

D. Bring students, faculty, and staff together in campus-centric activities

Project I: Diversity Dialogue.
Develop a Speaker series on topics celebrating our diversity, in collaboration with student leaders and IAIA departments. This series of speakers, workshops and events will provide a structured forum for the IAIA community to become more aware of and celebrate our diversity. We will collaborate with student government to identify and co-sponsors speakers and events. 10% April 2019

Project II: Beyond Performance.
Performing Arts will expand its “Beyond Performance” program that affords students the opportunity to dine on campus with visiting performance artists. Rather than the didactic lecture the “Beyond Performance” program invites artists and collaborates with such organizations as Site Santa Fe to job-talk and workshop their craft casually over a warm meal.
The goal is to engage and motivate current & potential performing arts degree seeking students to observe and learn from professionals in the area of Performing Arts.

Ongoing planning: Exploring the implementation of a part time coffee house for the Performing Arts & Fitness building. Currently working with the Achieving the Dream committee and ASG in gathering campus input and coffee house designs from performing arts students & workers.
40% Complete. May 2019
E. Promote health, wellness, and safety for all members of the campus community

Project I – Community trainings.
The Environmental, Health and Safety committee will promote training and activities to improve awareness and the safety of instructional processes. 10% Completion date: May 2019

Mission Objective 4: Advance Contemporary Native Arts and Culture

C. Advance scholarship and dialogue on indigenous arts and culture

Project I: Database Migration:
Archivists Toolkit to Archives Space Increased patron access; improved internal management. New public database for archival research; new web-based database implementation
The initial migration was unsuccessful due to many complications within the database. Ryan and Toby are working building a Linux server to migrate the data. 10% Completion date: May 2018.

E. Engage with indigenous communities world-wide

Project I – Indigenous Liberal Studies Exchange Program
Funding for this program was obtained through a strategic priorities proposal which was approved in the Fall of 2018. However, UIEM utilizes a fiscal year that corresponds to the calendar year and did not have the funds to support a Spring 2019 exchange. As a result, the exchange will take place in the Fall of 2019.

PROJECT SUCCESS INITIATIVES-PATHWAYS- ATD-Action Plan-Priority #1 Financial Literacy and Resources

GradReady-Financial Literacy for Students-Attached Report
We have 154 accounts which 103 are 1st year students; 9 are 2nd year; 18 are 3rd year; 6 are 4th year with the remaining 18 graduates; faculty/staff or not yet enrolled. The average quiz scores are: Paying For College= 83%; Money Management=80% and Real-World Finance=60%. With these figures, we are meeting our goal to “Improve Financial Literacy” with 1st year students being the largest number of students utilizing the program and scoring 83% on the “Paying for College” module.

15 to Finish Program (Financial Literacy/Retention Program)
The Institute of American Indian Arts has developed a financial incentive program for Incoming Freshmen. This program, called the “15 to Finish” Graduation Plan, will reward students for attaining their bachelor’s degree in four years (eight semesters) or less. Students who accomplish this will be rebated tuition for their senior year, earning a 25% savings on their tuition costs. Because IAIA includes books in tuition, the books required for student’s senior year classes will also be free if they meet the criteria of the program. To do this, full-time degree-seeking students will have to take a minimum of 15 college credit hours each semester, meet the program requirements, and remain in good academic and disciplinary standing, along with signing the agreement for admission into the program. We present this program to all New Freshmen during Orientation and the majority of students have signed the contract for the program. Contact is made with students throughout the semester via email or meeting regarding next steps. (62 enrolled)

Emergency Aid Funding-Assendium- IAIA has awarded $25,120.99 to 52 students since the inception of the program. Housing, Food, Vehicle, Utility, Medical and Gas are the top funding reasons. We have about an 85% retention rate for those students who received Emergency Aid.

Paid Internship Program
We have placed 26 students from Fall 2017- Fall 2018 and have paid $41,500 in earned wages. We are expecting to place 7-8 students for the Spring 2019 semester. The grant runs through October 2019 and Summer 2019 will be the last semester of the Paid Internships. We have about an 80% retention rate for those students who have participated. The “Peer-Mentorship Program” has been very successful for our students which allows for an upperclassman student to tutor students for classes that had lower passing rates. We modeled this after the start of the: IDST101-Intro to Indigenous Liberal Studies (Fall 2017) and now for Spring 2019, MATH098-Developmental Math, will have two Student Interns placed in the Learning Lab (Tutoring Lab) and in the classroom so that students have a “peer” to assist.

We have seen success with students retaining enrollment the following semester. The connections with the local Internship sites have been valuable by exposing our students to real-world experiences.

IAIA Scholarships: Charge: Allow more transparency and improvement to the scholarship application process.

- The IAIA/AICF Scholarship Applications have continued to increase. Below are the number of scholarship applications by semester and the percentage of students applying for scholarships. We are almost at our goal of 50% of fulltime students applying for the IAIA/AICF Scholarship.

- 2016-(FA) - 87 applications -324 Full-Time = 27%
- 2017 (SP)- 126 applications -300 Full-Time = 42%
- 2017 (FA) 128 applications -345 Full-Time = 37%
- 2018 (SP) 140 applications -306 Full-Time = 45%
- 2018 (FA) 154 applications -333 Full-Time = 46%

SPRING 2019
We are combining the Student Success Summit and the Scholarship Awards Luncheon into a one-day event to be held on: Thursday, February 14th, 2019. The new “Campus-Wide Planning Committee” planned the event throughout the Fall term with student input and input from the Base-Camp Committee to include Academic Sessions in the afternoon.

- To increase the number of students applying for the AICF/IAIA scholarship, the committee worked on the following tasks:
  - “Did You Know Campaign”- video footage of former IAIA Student of the Year-website and Facebook
  - Increased number of Writing Workshops during Orientation and two work-shops held at SUB in conjunction with ASG (food & drinks)
  - English Faculty were asked to make the scholarship essay a writing assignment during the first week of classes.
  - Application opened in October for Spring 2019.

IAIA Community Pantry
The Community Pantry has now moved to the Student Union Building. Students now have 24-hour access to the Pantry. In addition to clothing, household items, and non-perishable food. The new Community Pantry has the capacity to store/offer fresh, perishable food for students. The SSC will continue to oversee general maintenance of the space.

1.4 Track Student Success After College: Internship and Career Director sent out an online questionnaire to Alumni with valid emails IAIA’s IT Department. Fourteen questions were asked and to date, a zero (0%) response rate.

IAIA’s annual Graduate School Day event was held Friday, November 2, 2018. Over thirty colleges/universities were invited, ten (10) attended. Four faculty volunteered serving on a Q & A panel along with representatives from each of the universities/collages. Twenty-one (21) students signed in. Fifteen (15) completed a paper questionnaire. Answers ranged from Strongly Agree, Disagree, Neutral, Agree, Strongly Agree.

Project Two: Improve Career Readiness. “Stop-In” services are provided to students for career readiness and include: employment searches, graduate school searches, LinkedIn creation, and Internship searches and off-campus employment searches. The Internship/Career Director will continue to reach out to faculty and adjunct faculty to provide in-classroom presentations regarding career information and to promote Internship & Career services.

1.5 Develop student leadership skills

The Mentorship Program completed its first semester. Recent data from Fall 2018 participants is as follows: 70% of students completed the semester with a 3.0 and above, 47% of students were from the Cinematic Arts Department, 37% were first year students, and 57% of mentors were IAIA staff with alumni coming in 2nd and IAIA foundation board members coming in 3rd. We are currently in the process of increasing mentor program enrollment and making concentrated efforts to enroll students in academic warning and probation status.

3.3 Implement a faculty and staff professional development plan Retention Staff Training and Professional Development: Professional development and training continues to be a priority, so our staff can serve students.

Mission Objective 1: Improve Student Success

Inst. Priority “C” - Increase scholarship funds

Project: Implement an endowment management system that is capable of unitizing funds.

In collaboration with the Advancement office, will identify, procure, and implement software that tracks endowment investments and is capable of unitizing funds on an individual level. This will provide for more accurate apportioning of individual gifts over time and will allow the Advancement office to produce improved reporting on the endowment to external stakeholders.

Update – Fundriver software has been fully implemented and is operational. The software allows for the tracking and unitizing of individual endowment funds.

This project is 100% complete.

Inst. Priority “A” - Increase involvement of all IAIA stakeholders in student success

Project: Develop an online help knowledge database that can be used college-wide.

Academic Technology will develop and launch an online database that can share critical information with students, faculty, and staff. The database will include information on the college’s learning management systems, the Empower system, online conferencing, and other systems.

Update – The online database has been launched and is operational.

This project is 100% complete.

Inst. Priority “B” – Increase enrollment

Project: Develop a new course for online faculty.

Academic Technology will create and deliver a new course, specifically designed to assist online faculty with developing and teaching classes in an online environment. The focus of this course is primarily on the mechanical details of creating online course materials, assignments, and discussions. This course makes use of our ScreenSteps knowledge database to provide step-by-step instruction and reference materials.

Update – The course has been developed and deployed, in time for the start of the fall semester.

This project is 100% complete.

Mission Objective 3: Build college community

Inst. Priority “D” – Bring students, faculty, and staff together in campus-centric activities

Project: Convert the vacated fitness center into a student union/student study space.

The project will be led by the CFO and the Facilities Director. A committee of campus stakeholders will be assembled to assess needs and wants for the new space. Based on input from these campus representatives, a renovation plan will be developed, to re-design and renovate the space. A budget will be developed, and work should commence.

Update – Based on input from the ASG and Student Life area, the student union was repainted, and existing shelves, mirrors, and other remnants of the old fitness center were removed. Furniture was purchased and the new ASG office has been painted and re-carpeted.

This project is 100% complete.

Inst. Priority “H” – Build college community

Project: Implement an IT deferred maintenance and equipment replacement schedule.

The IT department will develop an inventory of all computing equipment currently in use. This inventory will then be cross checked against dates that the equipment was placed into service. Based on this assessment, IT will then distribute equipment information to campus departments, for replacement planning.

Update – The IT dept. has purchased new inventory database software that is more efficient than the old, manual database. The IT dept. continues to learn the complex inventory software and work through ways to avoid straining the network while the software is utilizing its scanning capabilities.

This project is 65% complete
Inst. Priority “I” – Grow and maximize resources for college programs

Project: The Finance office will perform an audit of all forms required for submission

To promote greater efficiency for college business operations, the Finance office will assess all forms that it currently requires for tasks, ranging from contract execution to requesting checks. Finance staff will identify ways that required paperwork can be reduced and redundancies can be eliminated. The result will be fewer forms that are simpler to use, along with a reduction in the number of steps required to conduct business at the college.

Update – The Finance office completed its review and edit of all required forms. The newly designed forms have been uploaded to the portal for campus-wide use.

This project is 100% complete.

Inst. Priority “I” – Grow and maximize resources for college programs

Project: A comprehensive renovation project will be initiated and branded, to refurbish the studio spaces and faculty offices, within the academic building.

The CFO will assemble a committee comprised of faculty, students, academic leadership, and facilities staff to assess studios and office space, in the academic building. Based on this assessment, a budget will be formulated, and a timetable will be established, for work to be completed. The focus of the project will be on renewing academic spaces and replacing essential equipment that is at the end of its service life. Suppliers and contractors will be selected, and work will commence during spring break, with the most intrusive work to be completed over the summer break.

Update – All construction, lighting, flooring, and painting work is complete. The initiative included over 80 separate projects, with a total cost just under $350,000. The project began on schedule and expanded in scope, having an even greater positive impact.

This project is 100% complete.

Mission Objective 4: Advance Contemporary Native Arts and Culture

Inst. Priority “F” - Strengthen the connection between the college, its museum, and the larger Santa Fe community

Project: Develop a searchable database at the Museum store for all books available for sale
The Museum store will develop a searchable database of all books currently in inventory. This database will make searching for individual titles much easier for patrons and store staff. All inventory will need to be organized, sorted, and logged, prior to establishing the database. This will ensure that the items and counts included in the database are accurate and reliable.

Update – Under new leadership at the Museum store, other priorities have taken precedence over this initiative. It may be revisited at a later date, but for now, should be considered tabled indefinitely.

This project is 0% complete.

Departmental Reports:

Finance/Office of the CFO:

- The CFO has been working extensively with the Facilities director and external contractors to prepare the daycare space and playground for the facility opening. Additionally, contract work between IAIA and PMS continues, with final edits, legal reviews, and approvals taking place on both sides.
- The Finance team hosted the JAG audit team on campus for several weeks. Aimee Balthazar and her team are to be commended for their diligent work with the auditors.
- The CFO and the President will be attending hearings and meetings at the State Capitol building as required, while the 60-day NM legislative session continues. The session began on 1/15/19.
- After discussions between the CFO, the IT Director, and the Academic Dean, it was decided that Academic Tech would once again report to Academics, rather than IT. The change was approved by the President and became effective in January ’19.

- The transition to IAIA’s new payroll, HR management, and benefits administration system is still underway. Having completed the most complex and crucial step, transition to the new payroll system, transition to the new benefits administration module has begun. In December the first online Open Enrollment period and session took place. Employees were able to go online and elect their benefits for the upcoming year. There were no significant issues and employee feedback on the process was positive.
- The HR portion of the yearly audit was completed with no significant issues or concerns found. Files and data management received positive feedback.
- Turnover data continues to be collected and analyzed on an on-going basis, in order to provide senior leadership with information to help improve retention.
Highlighted below is the turnover data the reporting period of December 2018-February 2019

- 5 Staff members left IAIA voluntarily.
  - A Senior Maintenance Technician left due to personal reasons.
  - A Museum Store Sales Associate left due to personal reasons.
  - A Counselor left due to personal reasons.
  - The Advancement Services Manager left due to personal reasons.
  - The Prevention Project Assistant left due to personal reasons.

- On the promotion and recruitment side, the following 3 positions were filled during this reporting period:
  - A Museum Store Sales Associate and Native
  - An Advancement Services Manager and non-Native (promotion)
  - A Senior Maintenance Technician and Native (promotion)

Facilities:

- Soon, the Facilities dept. will be replacing all parking lot lights and external lights on buildings excluding housing with LED fixtures.
- Using USDA grant funding, Facilities will lead a project to remove the greenhouse from the electrical grid, by installing a solar array near the greenhouse and atop the Facilities building. This will remove all electrical cost from the greenhouse. It will also produce enough electricity to offset some of the campus electrical costs.
- Facilities continues to work on upgrades to the daycare area, including fence install, paint, plumbing work, and assembling beds/toys/furniture. Artificial turf will be installed as well, as soon as the ground thaws and dries.
- The Santa Fe institute conference will return in summer 2019.
- Mountain west seed summit will be held at IAIA, February 22 & 23, 2019. This summit brings together seed stewards, educators and leaders to discuss and share the vision of seeds and the incredible role they play on our planet and in our regions.
- Santa Fe Community College TRIO program held their retreat at IAIA on January 15, 2019, to plan their upcoming year for support student support services. TRIO is a federally funded program that operates at SFCC.

IT:

- IT continues the work of merging previous Level3 and CenturyLink accounts with new CenturyLink Accounts.
- The IT Dept will be upgrading the following infrastructure in the following months with most of the work to be done Summer 2019.
  - State of New Mexico Funding:
    - Replace phone system—Early Spring 2019 the IT Dept will request quotes and investigate options for a phone system replacement
- Older 1 gigabyte fiber infrastructure to be replaced with 10 gigabyte fiber infrastructure to Academic Building, LTC, and Facilities Building—Summer 2019
  - Title III Funding:
    - Firewall Replacement—Summer 2019
    - Core Switch—Summer 2019
    - Wi-Fi Infrastructure replacement—Summer 2019
    - Replacement of older network switches on campus—Summer 2019

IAIA Museum Store:

- https://iaia.edu/store/
- IAIA Stores launched its online store in December. As of 1/15/19 the online store has hosted $246.85 in gross sales. IAIA Stores would like to extend a special thanks to Jason Ordaz for all of his hard work and support on this project.
- The Museum Store began the process of barcoding in Q1. To date store staff have barcoded Museum Store items with preexisting barcodes that are not books.
- In October, the Museum Store carried out its annual inventory process. The inventory was executed with groundbreaking efficiency, finishing the entire count of both stores, including data entry, in two weeks. This was accomplished through, utilizing the entire Stores Staff, Campus Bookstore student workers, Finance Department staff, and one temp worker in coordinated systematic action.
- The Museum Store aspires to promote the Lloyd Kiva New Gallery, located in the Museum Store, as an influential exhibition space for emerging Native artists. On November 11th the Museum Store opened Tonalpohualli: Count of Days, a show highlighting the artwork and research of artist Moira Garcia in the Lloyd Kiva New Gallery Space.
- On December 16th the Museum Store hosted an artist talk with Moira Garcia in the second-floor conference room at the Museum. The event was very well-attended.
- During the holiday season the Museum Store hosted its annual members weekend sale and pop up shops with Moira Garcia and Rebecca Kunz.

Difficult Issues:

- In November 2018 it was uncovered that three Museum Store deposits had gone missing in the period between 9/28/18 and 10/18/18. The sum of these deposits was $1,021.85.
  - The deposits are presumed missing as the result of theft, though without definitive evidence no charges could be filed.
  - A police report was filed on 11/16/18 by Rachel Machovec, Museum Store Manager.
  - These events highlighted some shortfalls in the Museum Store’s cash handling procedures. In response Finance, Museum Store Management, and Museum Security have analyzed and revised the Museum Store’s cash handling procedures. The new procedures were fully implemented by 11/11/2018.

- With the procedural revisions and experiential wisdom gained from this painful experience the Museum Store is better prepared for a stronger future.

Sales numbers and data were taken from the Counterpoint Flash sales report.

Analysis and Response to Numbers:

- We have seen Museum Store sales growth slowing over the past year (when compared to the year previous), but Q1 of FY 19 has had a comparative sales decrease of -28.5%. The following four bullet points provide context for the numbers:
  - Loss of momentum in management transition (inability to plan in Spring for Winter season).
  - The category with the largest decrease in sales is Consignment sales (this has a direct relationship with the above bullet points). Consignment sales for Q1 FY19 were $8,871. Consignment sales for Q1 of FY18 were $31,190. Q1 of FY18 can attribute a large part of its success to the sales of Cape Dorset Prints in the Lloyd Kiva New Gallery.
  - Other sales categories have dipped proportionately with the dips in admissions, while jewelry sales have grown.

IAIA Campus Bookstore:

- During Q1 of FY19 the Campus Bookstore has focused on raising its profile of on Campus, to promote the smooth continuation of the textbook program, in collaboration with eCampus.
- In October Rachel Machovec traveled to Lexington, Kentucky for the first ALL Access Symposium hosted by eCampus. Rachel was able to meet with the entire eCampus team, tour their facilities, and meet representative from other schools who also use the ALL Access program. The school representative and eCampus team were able to compare notes, brainstorm solutions to common problems, and inspire each other to keep improving.
• The Campus Bookstore requested fresh marketing materials from eCampus. This includes book distribution signage that utilizes the eCampus brand, and the clear branding of auto generated emails with eCampus colors and logo. The purpose of reinforcing the eCampus brand is to empower students to communicate with eCampus themselves when they need assistance with a textbook issue.
• The Campus Bookstore worked with Academics to provide training materials for Adjunct Professors to inform them about the eCampus ALL Access textbook program.
• The Campus Bookstore provided a formalized presentation during Spring orientation to incoming students.
• Though the Q1 FY19 Campus Bookstore total sales were down slightly compared to Q1 of FY18, with the increased profit margin the overall profits increased compared to the previous year.
• Sales increased in all categories (art supplies, snacks, etc.) in the Campus Bookstore accept for IAIA Logo apparel and fashions. This accounts for the dip in overall sales.
• The slowdown in Campus Bookstore apparel sales has a relationship with the loss of momentum due to management transition, and it not likely to be a pattern.
• The Campus Bookstore saw an increase in the number of tickets processed, implying increased contact with the student body and potential for future growth.

3. I. Grow and Maximize Resources for College Programs

3.1 Project: Endowment and Campus Campaign

Part of the Planning Study Final Report provided by Dini Spheris were key recommendations to conduct and manage a philanthropic initiative to raise between $6 million and $8 million between three to four years. IAIA would need to dedicate financial resources and time to make an initiative of this magnitude successful. The recommended Year One Budget of approximately $250,000 consisting of additional personnel, infrastructure, marketing and travel to support this major fundraising initiative is not in the IAIA 2019 or 2020 Operational Budget.

Rather than wait on funding for a large campaign, Advancement is developing a Scholarship Endowment Initiative with a goal of $1,500,000 in FY19 and FY20. The focus of initial prospects will be the 60+ prospects interviewed by Dini Spheris as many have expressed interest in supporting IAIA and Student Success. It is in IAIA’s best interest to contact these prospects ASAP with a goal in place as it has now been 6 months since the interviews were conducted.

Marketing pieces are being developed, prospects are being assigned to OIA staff, with travel plans to follow.

3.4 Project: Tribal Governments – Relationship Building

Staff listed: Manuela Well-Off-Man, Chief Curator; Tatiana Lomahhaftewa-Singer, Curator of Collections; Andrea Hanley, Program and Membership Manager; Mattie Reynolds, Preparator and Exhibition Coordinator; Eric Wimmer, Collections Registrar; and Sallie Wesaw-Sloan, Graphic Designer

Strategic Theme 1: Improve Student Success

1.1 Increase involvement of all IAIA stakeholders in student success

Phillips served on the IAIA’s Strategic Plan 2022 committee and participated in the Achieving the Dream (ATD) Coaches Visit. Phillips has signed up to be a mentor for the Achieving the Dream initiative.

Well-Off-Man gave a tour of the exhibition Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950s to Now to Amber-Dawn Bear Robe’s art history class.

Reynolds continues to participate in Museum Club meetings and IAIA’s student mentorship program Achieving the Dream. In addition, she is teaching an online class about issues in repatriation.

1.5 Develop student leadership skills

Phillips presented to Felipe Colon’s class regarding leadership and her trajectory to becoming a museum director.

Exhibition department hired IAIA students Erika Knecht, Austin Big Crow (Lakota) as well as IAIA alumnus Terran Kipp Last Gun (Piikani Nation) for the installation of Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950s to Now. MoCNA preparator Reynolds trained the students to paint gallery walls, and safely handle and install the exhibition artworks.

MoCNA chief curator Well-Off-Man worked with IAIA student co-curators Rachelle Pablo (Diné) and Erika Knecht on the #NoFILTER: IAIA 2019 BFA Exhibition. The students were involved in all steps of the exhibition planning: they designed a “call for art” invitation, wrote a press release, selected artworks, created exhibition layouts and designs, and authored and edited exhibition texts. In addition, they worked closely with MoCNA preparator Reynolds to coordinate the shipping/delivery of the artworks and learned how to install the artworks.

Collections Department re-hired IAIA Student Austin Big Crow (Lakota) for their Student Worker position and will be hiring additional students in February to assist with an inventory of the collection this spring.

Strategic Theme 3: Build College Community

3.3 Implement a faculty and staff professional development plan

In preparation for the upcoming print exhibition, Eric Wimmer is auditing an IAIA Printmaking course this Spring to help increase his knowledge of this art form.

Lomahaftewa and the IAIA Museum Club have begun meeting to plan activities for the semester and to plan for the annual IAIA Student and Recent Graduate Art Booths (summer fundraising event).

3.4 Bring students, faculty, and staff together in campus-centric activities

Reynolds develops social media strategies with IAIA Marketing Specialist Jason Ordaz.

3.5 Promote health, wellness, and safety for all members of the campus community

Lomahaftewa is working with Ryan Flahive on a risk assessment for the museum’s collection and archives. This will involve facility inspections, development of procedures, establishing key contacts, a communications plan, determining salvage priorities, obtaining and maintaining emergency supplies, and drafting a document that would be fully integrated into the larger IAIA emergency response plan. A sub-committee of key IAIA staff is being formed with plans to begin monthly meetings starting in late Feb and complete the work by the end of 2019.

Strategic Theme 4: Advance Contemporary Native Arts and Culture

4.1 Expand collaboration between the Museum, academic and student support programs

Phillips, Lomahaftewa and Well-Off-Man contributed to the Mellon Foundation’s successful submission to establish a Research Institute at IAIA.
Well-Off-Man continues to serve on the selection committee for IAIA’s Artist-in-Residence (A-i-R) Program. The new artists for Spring 2019 are Cara Romero, Diego Romero, Rick Gendron, Darren Vigil Gray, Rico Worl, Jordan Ann Craig, Laura Youngbird (Master Artists); Monique Sonoquie, Shawn Brigman (Sculpture and Foundry); and Brent Michael Davids (NEA).

February 9th, Hanley continues her annual partnership with the IAIA Creative Writing program, with the February IAIA Creative Writing Reading: Hangry for Love. IAIA Students: Paige Hannan; Savannah Junes; Damien Moore; Serena Rodriguez; Tovah Strong; and T’cha Mi’iko Cosgrove. IAIA Faculty: Kim Parko; James Stevens, and Evelina Lucero.

Hanley successfully submitted a grant to the Art Bridges Foundation for $10,000 for programming associated with the new exhibition, Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950’s to Now.

4.2 Implement Museum Docent and Volunteer programs

Phillips presented an overview of the past 10 years of the museum’s contemporary Native art exhibitions to the incoming docents. She also presented on IAIA’s involvement and contemporary Native artists participation in the Venice Biennale, documenta and Sydney Biennale. She participated in the docent certificate tours to qualify them to give tours to our visitors.

Well-Off-Man participated in docent and volunteer training program. She gave an overview of modern and contemporary Native American art history. She also gave presentations on upcoming exhibitions, including Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950s to Now, and attended docent certificate tours.

Hanley continues to direct the Docent + Volunteer program by organizing and scheduling tours and volunteer opportunities. She participates in meetings, creates and gathers relevant materials on contemporary Native arts, as well as upcoming MoCNA exhibition information for the group. Hanley organized four months of programming for the 2019 Volunteer and Docent Training program from October - January 2019. The intensive training happened twice a month and included the following speakers: Patsy Phillips, MoCNA Director; Laura Harris, Executive Director of Americans for Indian Opportunity; Andrew Lovato, City of Santa Fe, Historian; Dr. Robert Martin, President, IAIA; Ryan Flahive, IAIA Archivist; Char Teters, IAIA Dean; Lomahaftewa-Singer, MoCNA Collections Curator; Eric Wimmer, MoCNA Register; Mats Reiniusson, IAIA Dome; Felipe Colon, IAIA Museum Studies Chair; Jeff Kahm, IAIA Professor; Matthew Eaton, MFA, Assistant Professor; Amber Dawn Bear Robe, IAIA Professor American Indian Art History;
Heidi Brandow, artist and IAIA staff; Brian Fleetwood, artist and IAIA assistant professor; Ian Kuali'I, artist; Manuela Well-Off-Man, MoCNA Chief Curator and Stephen Wall, past IAIA Chair of Indigenous Liberal Studies. There are currently five newly trained docents, a total of ten docents. Seven newly trained volunteers, a total of nineteen volunteers. A team of twenty-nine active volunteers and docents.

4.3 Advance scholarship and dialogue on indigenous arts and culture

Phillips served as a panelist on the U.S. Artists grant selection reviewing 43 proposals. She traveled to Chicago in early February to select artists for this prestigious award.

Phillips traveled to Washington, D.C. December 4 to 8, 2018 to meet with the National Museum of the American Indian to plan the Suzan Shown Harjo Symposium scheduled for September 20, 2019. NMAI will organize the event and will pay the costs of the symposium and will publish the symposium publication. Harjo has asked Phillips and Kevin Gover (NMAI Director) to be co-editors of the symposium publication. Additionally, she has invited Dr. Martin and Phillips to make presentations at the symposium and write chapters for the publication which will be published in 2020. Phillips met with Suzan Shown Harjo while in D.C. Harjo is pleased we are pursuing this symposium and recognizing her for over 50 years of contributing to the field of Indian arts and cultures. Phillips also visited Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania while in the D.C. area. IAIA has an MOU with Dickinson College and they would like to pursue bringing IAIA students to Dickinson for internships. Shan Goshorn who recently passed has an exhibition at the Trout Gallery at Dickinson College about the Carlisle Boarding School. Phillips visited this exhibition as well Carlisle Boarding School.

Phillips submitted confidential letters of recommendation for two Native artists to the MacArthur Foundation and the Guggenheim Foundation at the requests of the foundations.

Phillips and Well-Off-Man submitted a successful proposal to The Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts and MoCNA was awarded $27,000 to support curatorial research. This international Indigenous art exhibition titled, the Exposure Curatorial Research Project addresses the long-term effects of nuclear testing and uranium mining on Native communities world-wide. There are over one thousand abandoned uranium mines and mills on the Navajo Nation alone; and generations later, tribal members continue to suffer from cancer and birth defects resulting from uranium contamination. The Research Fellowship will allow MoCNA to examine how international Indigenous artists respond to the damages caused by nuclear and uranium poisoning in their communities. The exhibition curator Well-Off-Man and Phillips will interview international Indigenous artists and consult with scholars and curators who could help shape the project and contribute to the exhibition catalog. Research will be conducted in the United States, Australia, Canada and Greenland. The Exposure Curatorial Research project will be an important opportunity for MoCNA to contribute new scholarship to the field of contemporary Native art.

At the invitation of the Native Arts & Cultures Foundation, Phillips and Hanley submitted a proposal to fund the fall 2019 round of social engagement artists and received funding in the amount of $10,000. Two artists will travel to Santa Fe in mid-October for this social engagement program.

MoCNA published Action/Abstraction Redefined – the first exhibition catalog that analyzes Native American art inspired by Abstract, Color Field, and Hard-edge Painting. The publication features paintings and works on paper from MoCNA’s permanent collection, created in the 1960s and 1970s. The artists in this exhibition challenged stereotypical expectations of Indian art by experimenting with New York School art movements combined with art influences from their own cultural heritage. This departure supported by the groundbreaking new art education philosophy at IAIA, revolutionized the Native American art world. This publication also contributes to the scholarship about female artists, such as Edna Massey (Cherokee), during this male dominated art period.

Phillips welcomed, and Well-Off-Man gave a tour to University of North Carolina at Pembroke administration members Dr. Robin G. Cummings, Chancellor; Mark Gogal, Interim Chief of Staff, Advancement; April Locklear, Outreach Manager, Office for Regional Initiatives, Healthy Start CORPS; and Nancy Fields, Director/Curator, Museum of Southeast American Indian.

Well-Off-Man received a grant from the Art Bridges Foundation in the amount of $88,000 to bring the traveling exhibition, Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950s to Now (opened January 25 and on view until July 19, 2019). Art for a New Understanding features more than 30 artworks from the 1950s to today, including paintings, photography, video, textiles, sculptures, performance art, and more, created by Indigenous US and Canadian artists. The exhibition is organized chronologically, charting the development of contemporary Native art. The exhibition takes its title from a series of 23 sculptures made by artist Brian Jungen between 1998 and 2003. His Prototypes for New Understanding take consumer items such as Nike Air Jordans and transform them into sculptures that reference Northwest Coast mask designs. Jungen’s sculptures call attention to the ways images in popular culture shape an understanding of Indigenous peoples.
Well-Off-Man worked with MoCNA staff on the American Alliance of Museums’s Self-Study, which is part of the AAM accreditation program.

Since December, Lomahaftewa has been co-curating with Ryan Flahive a print exhibition from the permanent collection and the recent donation of IAIA Student prints that were produced under instruction by Seymour Tubis gifted to us by his daughter Nina Wooderson. The exhibit will address the history of printmaking at IAIA from 1963-1981 showing student experimentation with this art form. This exhibition will open in early August 2019 through August 2021 in the Museum’s Kieve Family Gallery.

On November 28, Hanley organized the MoCNA Zoom with artist Holly Wilson (Cherokee/Delaware) currently featured in the exhibition, Holly Wilson: On Turtle’s Back. Well-Off-Man interviewed Wilson in a public “Zoom” interview. Wilson shared her working methods, processes and inspirations for her art with the audience, and gave an online studio-tour via “Zoom”.

Hanley curated Mą’ii/Coyote Narratives | Or fast-talker, comic, commentator, space cowboy, gangster of love, and Maurice through January 24 in Helen Hardin Media Gallery. This series features a documentary and animation shorts from the 1970’s. Coyote Stories, made entirely in the Navajo language, stand the test of time as a vehicle for learning the Navajo language, and for understanding traditional core cultural values. They were created for Navajo children and adults but have a universal appeal and can be enjoyed by many different audiences. Based on traditional Navajo stories which have been told and passed along generations are an integral part of Navajo oral tradition. The films represent a significant slice of film history and Native American animation history. This is a collaboration between the museum and the San Juan School District, Blanding Utah.

Hanley organized the MoCNA Holiday Sale and Darren Vigil Gray Talk + Performance Weekend December 8-9, in partnership with the MoCNA Store. The public and museum members enjoyed holiday shopping, discounts, complimentary gift-wrapping, and refreshments. Also, on December 8th, current MoCNA exhibition artist, Darren Vigil Gray discussed his art practice to a standing room only audience, and performed with his band the Righteous Renegades, an experimental jam band in the main gallery.

Hanley has finalized the 1st round of 2019 MoCNA Social Engagement Arts Residents, Terrol Dew Johnson and Sonya Kelliher-Combs who will come to Santa Fe this March. The residency currently funded by the Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts will bring in two more residents this May. Previously this program was funded by NMAI. Partnerships have offered flexibility to mold a program based on Native artist leadership. and support MoCNA’s goals of activating contemporary Native artist capacity, community building, and the Native American Fine Art Movement. The Native Arts & Cultures grant will fund the fall social engagement residents.

Hanley organized the MoCNA Winter/Spring Opening Exhibition Reception for Art for a New Understanding-Native Perspectives 1950 to Now, January 25. Approximately 150 people attended this event.

Hanley organized Curators + Coffee: Art for a New Understanding: Native Perspectives, 1950s to Now on January 26 featuring Candice Hopkins, Independent Curator; Mindy N. Besaw, Curator, Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art; and Manuela Well-Off-Man, MoCNA Chief Curator for coffee and a dynamic discussion on MoCNA’s newest exhibition.

The IAIA Museum has earned 4.5 out of a 5-star rating from Yelp over the past year. These reviews are made anonymously and are directly from our visitors. In recognition of this achievement we have received the “People Love Us on Yelp” award which is given only to the most highly rated and best reviewed businesses on Yelp.

- Donation Proposal: Ken Mowatt sculpture, donated by Kiersten Fellrath
  Upon Committee Review, all agreed to explore the donation for the IAIA Public Art Collection as the upkeep of the carving would be too costly for the collection but would be appropriate for the campus for public display and to naturally decompose over time.

  Recommendation by Committee to request donor to contact the artist to determine if IAIA is the ideal recipient for this carving.

4.5 Engage with indigenous communities world-wide

The Andy Warhol Foundation Curatorial Research Fellowship grant will support Well-Off-Man and Phillips to work with Indigenous artists in Australia, Canada, Greenland and the United States. (Detailed description stated above)

Phillips and Well-Off-Man are maintaining good relations with Global Affairs Canada, represented by the Consulate General of Canada in Dallas, TX. The Consulate sponsored the Art for A New Understanding reception. They also supported curator Candice Hopkins’ (former MoCNA chief curator) travel costs to participate in the Curators + Coffee program and Tanya Linklater’s (Alutiiq) will travel to Santa Fe for a performance and panel discussion in May.

At the Ford Foundation’s invitation only, Phillips and Well-Off-Man submitted a letter of inquiry for the museum’s Indigenous Futurism Initiative. The exhibitions and public programs of this project address urgent issues of Indigenous communities worldwide. The Ford Foundation will inform MoCNA in February if the museum can move forward with the next step in the application process and submit a grant proposal.

The exhibition Hanley curated Desert ArtLAB: Ecologies of Resistance will next be displayed at the Northern Museum of Arizona, date to be determined.
4.6 Strengthen the connection between the College, its Museum, and the larger Santa Fe community

Co-curators Estevan Rael-Gálvez, Ph.D., Lomahhaftewa, and Well-Off-Man are collaborating with Hispano and Pueblo artists on the development of the exhibition Decolonial Post-Entrada (May 23 – February 16, 2020). The exhibition focuses on the much-needed healing process between New Mexico’s Pueblo and Hispano population after the controversial Santa Fe Entrada was cancelled in 2018. The objective of this exhibition is for artists from the region, through their work, to join conversations underway in Santa Fe around the transformation of the annual Fiesta de Santa Fe (Entrada).

Well-Off-Man maintains good relationships with the regional and national media and gave interviews to Canadian Art Magazine, Antiques and The Arts Weekly, Pasatiempo, Albuquerque Journal, KSFR's Through Our Eyes, and others.

Reynolds proposed and organized the December Staff Retreat titled, “Season of Giving Back.” Approximately 20 staff volunteered at the Food Depot where staff put together food baskets to hand out.

Hanley continued her series of artist run workshops including Nizhónigo Anilééh (Make it Beautiful): Seasonal Winter Hoop (Wreath) Workshop through an Indigenous Creative Process on December 1, partnering with well-known indigenous floral designer and IAIA Alumna, Shawna Shandiin Sunrise for a Wreath workshop made of seasonal winter greens including evergreen, cedar, and fir. Sunrise, a 5th generation Diné (Navajo) weaver connected harmony and placement in creating a Wreath with 10 participants. January 31, IAIA assistant professor, Brian Fleetwood conducted a jewelry workshop, in which the artist discussed his practice and participants were guided through a creative process of making an inspired pin. This event limited to 10 sold out in two days.
Mission Objective 1: Improving Student Success

A. Increase involvement of all IAIA stakeholders in student success

Project 1: Create focus groups to address preventative topics within the IAIA community.

- The first student focus group was conducted on 12/7/18 with 10 participants (10 max for every focus group). Topics asked were about alcohol and opioid education and awareness on campus and the surrounding communities. Specific topics included: underage drinking (UAD), binge drinking, and DWI awareness, as well as prescription drug usage on and off campus. Staff one-on-one meetings and focus groups will be held in February 2019 to continue building community awareness about UAD and opioid misuse. These results are shared when reviewing our community capacity and readiness report.

- A staff readiness workshop was conducted on 12/17/18 with student life department and student success. The workshop examined and rated the IAIA community’s stage of readiness for addressing Underage Drinking (UAD) and Rx Drug Usage. A 25-page program and capacity report were sent to OSAP grant office and COOP/PIRE consulting group to review. The report examined the degree to which our IAIA community is prepared to take action on an issue and the capacity of our community to implement programs, policies, and other changes that are designed to reduce the likelihood of substance use. The results will be shared at our next coalition meeting in February 2019, but on scale from 1-10 (1 being lowest level and 10 being highest), each item was concluded to have a readiness level 1, Community Tolerance/No Knowledge, for Rx opioid usage and level 3, Vague Awareness, regarding issue of UAD.

- Rx Opioid Usage: This information reveals the gaps in education, resources, awareness, and knowledge surrounding Rx opioid prevention within the IAIA community. After examining the results of the NMCS taken for the first time in April 2018, it is obvious that the Santa Fe community differs completely with regards to age, sex, and other demographics, particularly regarding AI/AN population and sexual minority status. The building capacity portion of our program planning is still in progress, but it is off to a great start. Many people in the IAIA community are excited to see what this program will offer to students, staff, and faculty members. Our coalition is still in the beginning phases of creating cohesion and inclusiveness of all programs and departments on campus. The challenge ahead is to find a way to bridge the different types of tribal representation on campus and to assess where they gauge the issue of Rx opioid misuse within their individual communities. This will differ from person to person depending on the AI/AN community from which they come, because different tribes have different needs and gaps in their assessment of opioid misuse.

Our coalition will continue to support, educate, and increase awareness regarding the opioid epidemic within our AI/AN communities. We must continue to examine the resources available in the city of Santa Fe and find a way to build a network system for local Native populations that are dealing with substance abuse issues. One of the first things we are going to do is increase small group and one-on-one discussions with IAIA community members to identify knowledge of Rx opioid misuse.

- UAD: This information on capacity and readiness has highlighted the need for more IAIA community education and awareness regarding UAD issues taking place on and off campus. There is a big difference in demographics (i.e. age, ethnicity, economics, sexual minority status) between the city of Santa Fe and the IAIA community. This is important to highlight because here at IAIA we must tailor our strategies to meet the cultural needs and identities of many AI/AN tribes represented on campus. Regarding addressing UAD issues on campus it is important to note the readiness is a level 3, but the capacity to build a program that address substance abuse is high. It is just a matter of collaborating with different departments on campus and educating the community about specific issues related to AOD usage that our college aged AI/AN populations are affected by.

- A monthly prevention campaign is being promoted each month, which began with September’s campaign addressing Suicide Prevention and educational material was sent to the IAIA community. A Prevention Bulletin Board is posted outside the cafeteria that highlights the monthly campaigns. October’s prevention campaign is on Preventing Domestic Violence and Bullying.

- The Prevention Office has submitted a research proposal to the IAIA Institutional Research Board (IRB) to administer the Student Lifestyle Survey to gather additional data on student use of alcohol and other drugs for additional information in making decisions on projects to implement to reduce underage drinking, opioid abuse and other substance abuse among our student body.

- The monthly prevention topics for November and December were Stress Prevention and Finals Week education. Highlighted topics included: Tips for Staying Healthy, Sources of Stress, Managing Your Stress in College, and hotlines/resources available to staff, students, and faculty members. The month of February 2019 will be focused on healthy relationships and violence prevention as well as sexual health education to prevent HIV, STD, and promote healthy relationships physically, emotionally, and socially.
• The Student Lifestyles Survey (SLS) was conducted November 7-14, 2018 on campus. We had a total of 128 respondents which was about 37.6% (1/3) of the on-campus student body population. Survey results are pending and should be assessed by February 2019.
• SYNAR Merchant Education was conducted throughout Santa Fe County and a total of 30 tobacco merchants were visited November 15-16, 2018. The SYNAR project is a tobacco merchant education awareness program that enforces tobacco laws and regulations while reducing youth tobacco use through prevention.

The project is 40% complete.

E.  Develop student leadership skills

Project 1: Resident Assistant (RA) Training in preventive informed care.

• RA and student life NARCAN training had to be rescheduled due to winter advisory and a campus 2-hour delay. This training will be rescheduled for spring break time or during the fall RA training in August. The housing department and prevention program will continue to strategize monthly prevention trainings when possible.
• The State of New Mexico Health Department presented a “Question, Persuade, and Refer” (QPR) training for RAs, which was open to faculty and staff to attend.
• The Indian Health Service was scheduled to do an all-day Mental Health First Aid training for the RAs and student life staff, but it was cancelled to the federal government shutdown.

The project remains at 20% completed.

Other: The ASG began the 2019 spring semester with two officer vacancies on their team. After returning to school for the 2019 spring semester, Abigail Deere, was recently appointed to the Vice-President’s position. Ms. Deere was elected to this position she was elected in the spring of 2018 but was unable to fill it due to not returning to school in the fall 2018.
