

IAIA Annual Open House

The Institute of American Indian Arts (IAIA) is pleased to invite you to the 2021 Annual Open House held on Wednesday, September 29 from 1–5 pm (MDT). This event will feature exhibitions and demonstrations of all types throughout the campus, with open studios and classrooms.

This year's events will include a bronze pour, a Raku firing, a demonstration in IAIA's one-of-a-kind fully articulating Digital Dome, an acting class demonstration, a book sale, readings by both our BFA and MFA in Creative Writing students and alums, art exhibitions, and an overview of our newest graduate offering—the MFA in Studio Arts. You'll also have a chance to see what our Land-Grant Program has been up to and meet our newest IAIA community members, our very own pollinators, the Thunder Bees.

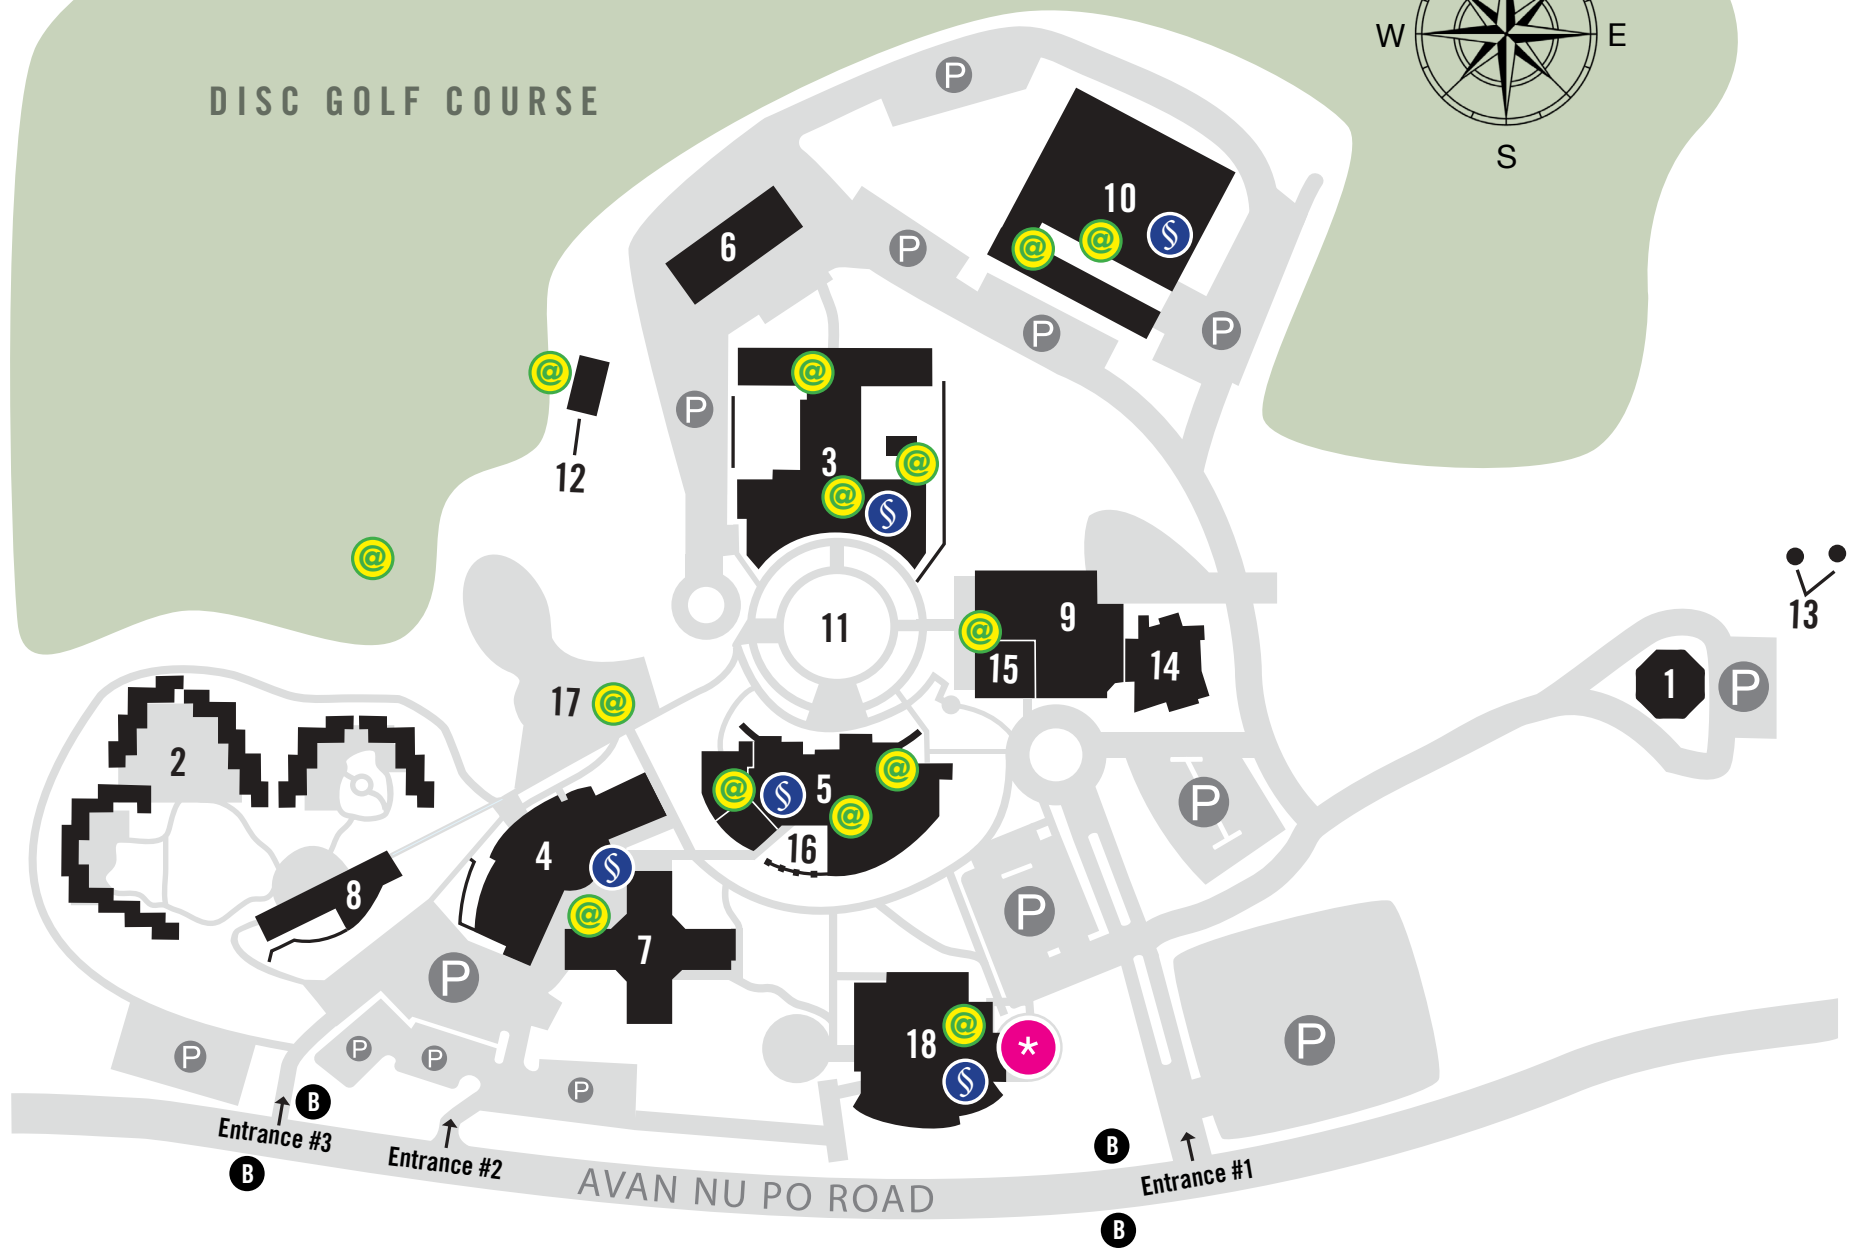

This event is the perfect opportunity for anyone interested in IAIA to come learn about our mission, programs, and community. If you're considering making IAIA a part of your educational journey, want to learn more about this institution that has played such a major role in the development of contemporary Native American arts, or are simply looking for an exciting event to attend, come join us for the IAIA 2021 Annual Open House.

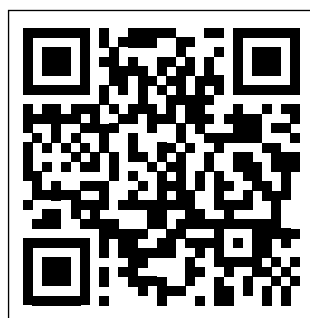

Before you leave the IAIA Campus, stop by the Welcome Table in the Performing Arts and Fitness Center to receive free merchandise (while supplies last).
