

2022 IAIA Annual Open House

The Institute of American Indian Arts (IAIA) is pleased to invite you to the 2022 Annual Open House held on Wednesday, September 21 from 1–5 pm (MDT). IAIA will offer a mix of in-person events from 1:00 pm to 5:00 pm as we celebrate IAIA's sixtieth birthday. If you missed the raku firing at SFCC or want to see either process again, you can at IAIA's open house. Watch video projections and a demonstration of our one-of-a-kind, fully articulating Digital Dome. Take part in classes, listen to readings from our talented BFA and MFA in Creative Writing students and alums, and check out an art show. Tour our beautiful Land-Grant vegetable and flower gardens and meet the Thunder Bees who help them grow in our apiary. If you're still hungry after having a Frito pie at SFCC, you can try an array of menu options from our on-campus café, Bon Appétit.

This event is the perfect opportunity for anyone interested in IAIA to come learn about our mission, programs, and community.
