Introduction

The purpose of this manual is to provide information on the three (3) Work-study programs at IAIA: Federal (FWS), State (NMWS) and Institutional (IWS). These programs are designed to provide part-time student-employment for students who are deemed as eligible.

This manual provides IAIA students with policy information that includes external Federal and State regulatory policies and internal IAIA policies.

The policies and procedures described in this manual are not for regular IAIA staff and are not considered an employment contract. IAIA students hired under the IAIA work-study program are considered program participants, even though terms such as “job”, “position” and “employment” are denoted.

While IAIA will take any effort to advertise and announce any/all works-study program edits/changes, IAIA reserves the right to improve, modify, revoke, suspend, terminate, or change any or all program procedures, and rules in whole or in part, at any time with or without notice in accordance with Federal, State and/or internal IAIA policies and regulations. Major changes in policies, rules, and procedures will be published. It is considered the responsibility of the student to review any updates and/or edits.

The IAIA work-study program is a partnership between the program participant (IAIA Student), the Financial Aid Office (Federal/State program types), the Career Office (all program types), the hiring department (all program types) and the IAIA Human Resource Office (all program types).

Disclaimer: Unemployment insurance is not collected from IAIA for work-study program participants (regardless of work-study employment program type). Thus, a student employed as a FWS, NMWS or (IWS) program participant is NOT eligible for New Mexico Unemployment Compensation Benefits.

Types of Student Employment Programs

- Federal Work-Study (FWS): Based on official/final FAFSA results. Need-based. Limited funding with award limits.
- New Mexico State Work-Study (NMWS): Based on official/final FAFSA results. Need-based. Limited funding with award limits. Requires NM residency.
- Institutional (IAIA) Work-Study (IWS): Non-need based. Award limits set by hiring dept.

Student Eligibility

For program participation via the IAIA work-study employment program for FWS, NMWS and/or IWS, except where noted), participants must:

- Be enrolled in and maintain a credit load of at least 6 credit hours during the regular semester or 3 semester hours during any official summer session on the campus of IAIA per semester to be eligible;

- Be in a degree-seeking program. Note: Participants do not earn college course credit for hours worked;
- Maintain a Cumulative Grade Point Average of 2.0 or higher (for continuing IAIA sophomore, junior and senior level students; gap is waived for new incoming freshmen);
- Must maintain financial aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) throughout the year. Progress is reviewed each term. If not maintained, work-study employee will be terminated;
- For FWS or NMWS: have financial need as determined by official/final FAFSA results and denoted on award letter. Preference given to highest need students (Pell eligible).
- Be U.S. citizen or an eligible non-citizen.
- For NMWS: Program participants are eligible to be considered for NMWS if they are a resident (for tuition purposes) of New Mexico and a citizen of the United States or a permanent resident alien.
- Educational Assistants and Residential Assistants must get approval in advance of next semester to the Financial Aid Office before being allowed to continue to work.

Overall Program Guidelines

- Students may not begin employment until all hiring paperwork is signed and submitted to HR;
- During the semester, students can work a maximum of 20 hours per week.
- All program participants may be hired for only one job.
- All work-study or student worker positions must be renewed each semester EXCEPT Education Assistants and Residential Assistants (please see below).

Program Types

Federal Work-Study Program

The Federal Work-Study (FWS) program is administered by the IAIA Financial Aid Office. Federal funds are allocated annually to institutions that are eligible to participate in the FWS Program. The FWS program is administered in accordance with the laws and regulations of the U.S. Department of Education.

Students who demonstrate the highest financial need (Pell eligible) receive award preference based upon official and final FAFSA results may be awarded FWS Funds. Awards are granted on a first come, first served basis until awards are exhausted.

Students are required to submit a FAFSA to determine eligibility for these program types. If a student files their FAFSA late (or after other eligible students have been awarded), an FWS Award may not be available due to lack of available awards. This holds true regardless of whether students have received a FWS Award in the past, have a financial need, or have a specific job arranged. A very limited number of FWS positions exist at IAIA as determined by annual allotments.

Accepting the FWS Award does not guarantee students will secure a position. For the FWS program, when positions are available, students are encouraged to secure a position related to their major.

Being an FWS participant gives you an opportunity to develop the personal qualities and work skills you will need to succeed in your chosen fields. The FWS program is for the purpose of training and enhancing educational goals; IAIA maintains the philosophy that a student's employment should be a learning experience and is secondary to the student's academic work.

FWS Community Service Requirement (FWS only)

Due to the 1998 Reauthorization of the Higher Education Act of 1965, unless a waiver has been granted by the U.S. Department of Education (via the IAIA Financial Aid Director pre-request and established process), institutions are required to utilize at least 7% of the FWS program allocations to pay students who work in community service jobs. These jobs may be on or off campus. At least 5% of the 7% allocation must be used to pay for students who work in family literacy programs that provide services to families with preschool or elementary school children or who work as reading tutors employed at elementary schools as part of the America Reads Challenge. The federal government provides a waiver for the 25% matching requirement for students employed in literacy programs or reading tutors.

Definition of Community Service (FWS only)

Community service is defined as services that are designed to improve the quality of life for the community, particularly low-income individuals, or to solve problems related to their needs. These services include, but are not limited to the following:

- Health Care, Child Care
- Literacy Training
- Education
- Welfare, Social Services
- Transportation
- Housing and Neighborhood Improvement
- Public Safety
- Crime Prevention and Control
- Recreation
- Rural Development
- Community Improvement

New Mexico State Work-Study Program (NMWS)

State funds are allocated annually to institutions that are eligible to participate in the NMWS Program. The NM Work-study (NMWS) program is administered by the IAIA Financial Aid Office.

Students who demonstrate the highest financial need (preferably those with a “0” EFC) based upon official and final FAFSA results may be awarded NMWS Funds. Awards are granted on a first come, first served basis until awards are exhausted.

Students are required to submit a FAFSA to determine NMWS eligibility. If a student files their FAFSA late (or after other eligible students have been awarded), a NMWS award may not be available due to lack of available awards. This holds true regardless of whether students have received a NMWS award in the past, have a financial need, or have a specific job arranged. A limited number of NMWS positions exist at IAIA and are as determined by annual state allotments.

Students are eligible for NMWS if the criteria below are met [History: Laws 1982, ch. 88, § 9]. In addition, IAIA shall ensure that it contributes at least 20% of the salary for the NMWS assignments.

Program participants are eligible to be considered for NMWS if they are a resident (for tuition purposes) of New Mexico and a citizen of the United States or a permanent resident alien.

Combined FWS and NMWS Program Information

IAIA must insure that you, the student, are not employed in certain jobs. You cannot work in the following jobs and remain eligible for the FWS or NMWS programs [21-21B-9. Prohibitions (1982)]:

- Jobs that advance a religious purpose;
- Jobs that have an objective that is primarily religious;
- Jobs that involve excessive entanglements with a religious organization; and
- Jobs that involve partisan political activity.

Institutional Work-study

At IAIA, a third category of positions exists that is different than the Federal and State Work-Study programs. Institutional Work-study program participants are not required to file a FAFSA and thus, this student-employment type is not based on “financial need” as determined by official/final FAFSA results.

Funding for Student Worker positions comes from individual departments and may change from semester to semester. You must maintain a credit load of at least 6 credit hours per semester to be eligible for Institutional work-study. Semester award maximums are dependent upon departmental funding.

Funding

Work Award Amounts and Earnings

FWS and NMWS employees may not earn more than the dollar amount of their award. It is the responsibility of the program participant (IAIA Student) and your supervisor to ensure that you do not go over the allotted amount. Dependent upon availability of funding, additional funds may not be added for those participants who work over their awarded dollar amount. It is very important that students accurately track worked hours to ensure that the total hours worked do not exceed the limit given in the award. The Financial Aid Office may terminate employment and may be required to cut off payment at award limit, which may result in payment due from the hiring department via the IAIA Finance Office.

It is possible for work program award amounts to change throughout the academic year. Changes could be the result of altered financial circumstances, receipt of additional financial aid, a change in the number of enrolled credits, etc. It is the student's responsibility to notify their supervisors of any changes in award amount.

You must work your assigned work schedule. Your supervisor should report to the Career Office any changes in schedule. Please keep in mind this is important to assure compliance with the Department of Education Federal Regulations and IAIA policies.

Missing Assigned Work Hours

IAIA understands a student's primary responsibility is to succeed in meeting their educational goals. However, failure to show up for assigned work hours without obtaining supervisor consent is not acceptable. Initial and recurring non-excused instances may result in consequences such as a verbal warning, a written warning to you with a copy to the Career Advisor and Financial Aid Director, or even immediate termination of the assignment.

Human Resources/Payroll

Necessary Documents (required for HR/Payroll)

- IAIA Work-Study Application Agreement
- W-4 Tax Withholding Statement & I-9.
 - Please note that you will also need to provide documentation to complete the I-9 (federal law which requires all workers to establish eligibility to work in the U.S.).
 - If the I-9 is not completed, HR will not be able to process paychecks.
- Emergency Contact information
- Direct Deposit Form

Rate of Pay

- All program participants earn a rate of $7.50 per hour and FICA taxes will not be withheld.
- Rates are established by the Federal Government and IAIA.

Paychecks

Paychecks are processed every two weeks.

If you do not have Direct Deposit checks may be picked up from Student Accounts on that Friday after 3pm.

Confidentiality

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a federal law, enacted in 1974, that guarantees the confidentiality of student records. You should familiarize yourself with some of the basic provisions of FERPA to ensure you do not violate this federal law. FERPA violations may result in disciplinary action including, but not limited to, the loss of your job.

Under no circumstances may you release student information to anyone, unless the position specifically requires you to do so. Refer any requests for information about a student to the supervisor to ensure that FERPA violations do not occur.

You must avoid acquiring student records information that they do not need to do your job, and you may not exchange student information that they have learned while performing your job. Even a minor disclosure of information (e.g., telling another student of someone's class schedule) may be a FERPA violation and may result in disciplinary action. Any information you obtain on the job regarding students must remain in the workplace. Workers in all departments are required to read and sign a Confidential Agreement form. (Form in Appendix)

Personal Appearance

The nature of the position with IAIA will determine the type of dress that will be appropriate for work. All FWS and Student Workers are expected to dress in a manner that will present a favorable image of IAIA to the community. Supervisors will review any specific dress requirements for each position with the student.

Job Satisfaction

If you find that you are unhappy in an assignment situation, we suggest that you talk openly with your supervisor. If the matter is not resolved to your satisfaction, you must contact the Career Advisor to intercede and attempt to find a mutually satisfying resolution. If this does not resolve the situation, then contact the Financial Aid Director. Alternative opportunities are not guaranteed.

Payroll

The student is responsible for submitting hours into TLO for your approval. The supervisor is responsible for accurately accounting for the work study student working hours and approving in TLO. A Student will not be paid timely unless time is submitted and approved in TLO on due date. Paper time sheets are not accepted and if occurs routinely, a student written explanation will be required to be submitted to the IAIA Finance Office (CFO) for review.

TLO/Time Sheets

It is the responsibility of both the supervisor and the student to submit and complete the student's time sheet in TLO. Late submissions of the TLO/ time sheets will be processed the next pay period for the previous pay period. Please keep in mind that late time sheets will be one pay period late.

HR (payroll) will not go back any later than one pay period and process "late" time sheets that the student failed to turn in.

Terms of Release

Student worker can be dismissed for the following reasons:

- Voluntarily (is it professional and appropriate to write a letter of resignation and give at least two-week's notice).
- Failing to fulfill all duties and responsibilities as outlined in the job description
- Failing to show up at assigned work hours without prior approval
- Other reasons as outlined in the work-study agreement

It is IAIA's policy to encourage employees to perform to their highest levels of ability and conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times. The corrective action process is intended to: help employees and address conduct in violation of appropriate standards; avoid future performance or conduct issues; and encourage open communication.

Employment with IAIA is by mutual consent between IAIA and the employee. Therefore the employment arrangement is considered "at will" and may be terminated at any time, with or without cause, by either IAIA or the employee.

Following is a description of the steps of the corrective action and progressive disciplinary process. IAIA has the option of deviating from these steps as IAIA deems appropriate, such as when serious misconduct occurs.

The corrective action or progressive disciplinary process includes, but is not limited to:

Verbal Reprimand - An oral statement informing an employee that his/her performance, actions, behavior, or conduct need to demonstrate immediate and sustained improvement. This reprimand should include the nature of the problem, the IAIA Department's expectations, and the consequences should the problem continue. It is recommended that supervisors document the date, time, and content of the verbal reprimand. A verbal reprimand will be documented by the supervisor and filed in the Work-Study's personnel file in the department of hire.

Written Reprimand - A written reprimand specifies the inappropriate conduct or performance deficiency. It states a reasonable timeframe and effort required for improvement and identifies the consequences for failure to meet the required improvement. The written reprimand will be filed in the Work-Study personnel file in the department of hire.

Termination – If the performance problem or conduct is not corrected, an employee may be terminated. An involuntary termination of employment with IAIA may occur whether or not the employee has been previously disciplined. If the cause of termination violates Student Code of Conduct, the cause of termination will be reported to Dean of Students.

If an FWS, NMWS, or Student Worker is terminated, you must fill out a Work-Study Evaluation /Termination Form. A copy of the termination form will be filed in the Work-Study's file in the department of hire. Submit original to Career Office for signature. Career Office will forward form to Financial Aid Office for signature. Financial Aid Office will forward form to Human Resources for filing. The form is important for tracking Work-Study positions, and is also important for redirecting Work-Study funds.

The form can be found in the appendix.

Work-Study or Student Worker Evaluation

It is expected that a work performance evaluation for each student will be conducted at least once each academic semester. The Work Study Student Performance Evaluation should be completed by you, after which both the Student and you should discuss and sign the evaluation. A copy should be sent to the Career Office to be placed in the Student's file for future reference checks.

IAIA students may use their assignment as a job reference; therefore, the Evaluation/Termination form is an important part of the Student's job search.

Financial Aid (FWS and NMWS only)

Overawards: Changes in Eligibility to Work

If a FWS or NMWS student receives additional resources (specific need-based aid) that impacts eligibility for FWS or NMWS funds, the Financial Aid Director will make adjustments to the Student's FWS or NMWS award to ensure compliance with state and federal regulations. If applicable, the Financial Aid Director will notify the student and hiring supervisor if there is a reduction in a Student's FWS/NMWS award. Reductions will only occur to "unearned" work-study. If this occurs, if departmental funding is available, departments may opt to offer the student IWS.

IAIA Internship Policy

External (off-campus) Internship (non-IAIA related):

For students who accept “off-campus” (non-IAIA related; ex: Disneyworld) internships (as pre-approved by their Faculty of Record):

- Payment is not required to be routed or reported to Financial Aid.
- If any course credit is desired, student is responsible for providing the IAIA Registrar with any/all official documentation.

IAIA-Funded (on/off-campus) Internships:

For students who accept “on or off-campus” internships (paid via IAIA or grant-funded via IAIA):

- If the student holds an IAIA on-campus student worker or work-study position, they may only receive an Internship Scholarship up to the cost of that internship course tuition and fees (non-taxable).
 - Internship Scholarship for tuition and fees is required to be routed and reported to Financial Aid via an “authorization form”. Note: the institutional administrator of the paid internship reports the assistance to Financial Aid and routes payment to the student's account via the “authorization form.”
 - The Internship Scholarship will be counted in their financial aid received and applied to their student bill.
 - If other aid has already been applied to the student account prior to the Internship Scholarship, a refund check will be generated to the student.

 - Student is required to have all current HR paperwork on file, including but not limited to an I-9 and voluntary resignation form.
- Student is responsible to meet all requirements established by the Internship Director and provide any required documentation to the student's Faculty of Record and the IAIA Registrar to qualify for course credit.
